Poor Blood

You can trust a medicine tested 60 years! Sixty years of experience, think of that! Experience with Ayer's Sarsaparilla; the original Sarsaparilla; the Sarsaparilla the doctors endorse for thin blood, weak nerves, general debility.

But even this grand old medicine cannot do the best work if the liver is inactive and the bowels constipated. For the best possible results, you should take laxative doses of Ayer's Pills while taking the Sarsaparilla.

The Cannon Ball Tree.
Among the plants of Guiana one of the most curious is the cannon ball tree. It grows to the height of sixty feet, and its flowers are remarkable not only for their beauty, but also for their fragrance. Its blossoms are of a beautiful crimson, appearing in large bunches and exuding a rich perfume. The fruit resembles enormous cannon balls; hence the name. However, some say it has been so called because of the noise which the balls make in bursting. From the shells domestic utensils are made, and from the contents are obtained several kinds of acids, sugar and gum as well as the materials for making an excellent drink in sickness.

Said premises were appraised as a whole under a former order of this court at $47.00 per acre.

Terms of Sale: Cash, $\frac{1}{2}$ in one year and $\frac{1}{2}$ in two years, deferred payments to be secured by mortgage on premises sold.

To be sold by order of said Court in case No. 13088 wherein Florence N. Arthur is petitioner and Mary A. Sellers, et al., are defendants.

HOWARD APPLEGATE,
Sheriff, Greene County.

CHASE STEWART,
Attorney for petitioner.

DISTRIBUTING DEPOT FOR "Pittsburgh Perfect" Fences

For some time we have been investigating a New Idea in Wire Fencing. After a most careful examination we have been convinced that we have found the best field fence manufactured. "Pittsburgh Perfect" is made of all galvanized steel wires. It is the only fence welded by electricity. Every rod is guaranteed perfect. All large wires, the stays being the same size as line wires. It has no wraps to hold moisture and cause rust.

If You Are Looking for a Fence

- That will stand HARD USAGE;
- That will not SAG DOWN or CURL OVER on the top;
- That has stays that WILL NOT SLIP;
- That will CONFORM TO UNEVEN GROUND;
- That has NO SLACK WIRES;
- That does not require an EXPERT TO ERECT;
- That is LOW IN PRICE—

Then Read What We Guarantee

- The stays are ELECTRICALLY WELDED to strands, forming a perfect union and an amalgamation with the strands not found in any other fence.
- No wraps to get loose, or hold moisture and cause rust.
- No projections to injure stock or tear wool from sheep.
- Stronger at the joints than any other fence welded together by electricity.
- Guaranteed that the wire is not injured at the joints.
- Guaranteed adjustable to uneven ground.
- Guaranteed that stays will not separate from strands.
- Guaranteed all right in every particular.
- Made by the most modern process and on the latest improved machinery.
- Most of the work points in other fences are on account of the way the stays are fastened. Our stays are amalgamated with the strands by means of electricity and the strength of the fence increased a hundred fold over the strength of a fence where the stays are wrapped or clamped on the strands.

If by this time you are interested, come and see this fence and get in your order. If you are skeptical come and be convinced. We add our personal guarantee to everything claimed for it and would be pleased to submit prices.

Don't fail to see us before buying your fencing. Don't put it off until you are ready to use it, but place your order in advance, as we cannot carry all sizes in stock.

Crouse & Crawford.

MORE TAXES ON REAL ESTATE

Quadrennial Appraisal Bill Hits
Farm and Other Realty Owners.

ARE CORPORATIONS BACK OF IT?

Measure Now Before the House Interests Farm and City Property Owners—Prompt Action Necessary to Meet the Situation.

Columbus, O., (Special)—Senate bill No. 558 passed the senate last week. This bill provides for the revaluation of real estate next year, and this increased valuation will be subject to the tax rate for 1910; that is to say, increased valuations on real estate, farms, etc., will become subject to taxation one year in advance of the time under the regular decennial appraisal.

Every man who owns a farm or other realty will find his taxes increased if the bill becomes a law. Every owner of a city lot and house will find his pocketbook touched hard by officials having tax-payer power.

The outlook is not a pleasant one, for land and buildings already bear by far the largest per cent of the taxes and the farms pay the bulk of this amount.

These are arguments that opponents of the bill have presented to legislators. They claim that senate bill No. 558, by Mr. West, which on its face reads innocently enough, will give public officials power to levy increased taxes on one class of property—real estate. Even where a wisely-fixed debt limit or the adverse votes of citizens have kept down the debts of counties and cities, the way will now be clear for officials to raise more money and to run the people more deeply into debt, and the voters will have no check on this proposed increase.

Single Tax. Though perhaps not intended as a single-tax measure, it tends in that direction. Single tax proposes to tax real estate alone, while this aims to throw most of the burden for the time being at least upon realty.

The Cuyahoga county delegation is working hard for the passage of the bill. Their sponsor, Mayor Tom L. Johnson, is an ardent single-tax supporter. But more than this, Mayor Johnson's administration has spent so much money that it has run Cleveland up to the debt limit, and finds itself unable to raise money for very necessary improvements and some of the ordinary expenses of the city government. Several times the administration has attempted to raise more money by submitting a proposed bond issue to the voters at an election, but each time the proposed increase in debt has been voted down.

In spite of this public sentiment, under this bill the bonded indebtedness of Cleveland or any other municipality in the state might be increased 50 to 100 percent.

And this bill takes from the farmer and small realty owner the right to select and vote for the man who appraises his property and puts it in the hands of a board to appoint the appraiser. This bill provides for appraisals of realty every four years, instead of ten years, as has been the custom in this state. There is no great objection to the more frequent reappraisal, but no change should be made prior to the usual period. Leases and contracts have been made based on the decennial appraisal of 1900, and owners and lessees had the right to expect that conditions would not be changed prior to the usual time. If the appraisal is made at the usual time for but four years, everybody will so understand it and be governed accordingly.

New Rule for Valuation. Opponents of the bill demand that there shall be no change prior to the usual period, and that it should not pass unless other legislation accompany it, such as reducing the limits of taxation which may be levied by municipal and county authorities. Objection is offered to the section which provides that real estate shall be taxed at its true value in money, "without discount." "Without discount" are new words in Ohio tax laws. By custom it has become the rule to value for taxation all property, both real and personal, at 60 percent of its true value. Some in valued even lower, the tax valuation of personal property being especially low. For instance, if a farm or if a city lot is worth $6,000 in the market, the assessors have placed upon it a valuation not to exceed $3,600, which is 60 per cent. Under the new law the valuation on the tax books would have to be $6,000, and the officials would have power to keep the tax rate on the property as high as in the past.

While the proposed law will enforce a higher valuation on all real estate, it will not cut down the rate of taxation which public officials are empowered to fix. For instance, if the rate of taxation has been 3 per cent in some county or city, officials may still keep it at 3 per cent, though the tax valuation of property jumps from 60 per cent of market value to full market value. If the total tax valuation of the same locality under the 60 per cent rule has been $60,000, and the amount of tax collected has been $1,000,000 at a 3 per cent rate, the valuation will be increased to $1,600,000 and the rate may still be 3 per cent, and the amount of tax collected will then reach $4,800,000. The officials will have that amount to spend, and they always spend all they can get.

Debt, Debt, Debt. The officials will have power to run the public more deeply into debt. A wisely-made state law decrees that, the debt limit of a city shall never exceed 4 per cent of the tax valuation except by a vote of the people, when it may go to 8 per cent. When the tax valuation is $60,000,000 bonds may be issued by city officials only to the amount of $2,400,000, but if the valuation jumps to $1,000,000,000, permitted under this bill, the bond issues may be increased to $4,000,000, giving city officials power to issue $1,600,000 more bonds.

And there are other bills which will permit a city council to go even beyond the 4 per cent debt limit. They are introduced by Senator Howe, a Johnson Democrat of Cleveland, and they provide that certain classes of bonds, such as paving bonds, playground bonds, grade-crossing bonds and several others shall be exempt from the 4 per cent debt rule. In other words, a city administration may include these bonds from its calculation, and then issue other bonds to the amount of 4 per cent of the tax valuation. Waterworks bonds are now exempt from the debt limit. This quadrennial appraisal bill would affect every city, village, hamlet and farm in the whole state. If the taxing officials could guarantee that there would decrease the tax rate or levy pro rata with the increase in valuation fixed under the measure one serious objection to it would be removed.

Encourages Extravagance. The bill is nothing less than a measure to encourage tax extravagance. County, city and village officials are always complaining that they do not have money enough to conduct the public's business, and yet the average taxpayer feels that he contributes—by force, perhaps—more than his share of the public expense.

This bill, if enacted into law, would give taxing bodies splendid opportunity to raise greater sums by taxation and at the same time reduce the tax levy. That would be possible because the taxable value of a farm or lot, for instance, could be increased 50 per cent and the rate lowered 25 per cent. The net result to the taxpayer would be that his taxes would be increased 25 per cent, and if he complained, the official would "spit" with pride the fact, and urge it as a defense, that the levy was reduced 25 per cent.

Altogether, it looks as if certain large corporate interests might be greatly interested in this measure. If the duplicated of several counties were combined, it would give them itself twice as much money from its levy as it receives now. The $2,000,000 paid to state support would be raised to $4,000,000, and this would help wonderfully well to meet the extravagant appropriations being made by the present legislature, and not cost the taxpayer a cent more.

The opponents of the measure argue that all farm, village and city realty owners should enter a protest against the passage of the bill by the House and to that end the matter should be taken up immediately with the representatives in the legislature from YOUR county.

Put Your Money
In a New Country

The Pacific Coast extension of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway now under construction, opens to the settler thousands of acres of excellent agricultural land. The new country in Adams, Hettinger, and Bowman Counties, North Dakota, and Butte County, South Dakota, is now reached by the new track. The soil is a dark loam with clay subsoil, and produces in abundance wheat, oats, barley, flax, corn and potatoes. The land is well adapted to farming, good water is found at a depth of from twenty to fifty feet, and the whole country is underlaid with lignite coal that outcrops along the streams, and in most cases can be had for the digging.

The climate is beautiful, the air is dry and invigorating, and the percentage of sunshine days is high. Outdoor work can be done almost every day in the year. Rainfall is amply sufficient to raise the crops. Regular mail service has been established, the roads are good, rural telephone lines traverse the country, and automobiles are in common use. The decided land in this district sells for from $10 to $18 per acre. There are many instances this year where the crop equaled in value the cost of the land.

In Butte County, South Dakota, there is considerable government land open for homestead entry. Government land offices are maintained at Towner, Hettinger and Bowman, where filings and final proofs may be made. All of these towns are on the new line of the

In Montana, the new railroad traverses good farming land. It has been demonstrated that big crops of grain may be raised. Along the Yellowstone and Musselshell rivers, the water is used for irrigation, and phenomenal yields of alfalfa, sugar beets, and grain, are always certain. In the Judith Basin near Lewistown, Montana, is one of the most remarkable sections to be found on the new line. Under natural rainfall, the famous bench lands produced this year an average of 35 bushels of hard wheat to the acre, and the price was 94 cents per bushel. The basin contains about 1500 square miles and is sparsely settled. Some government land still remains open for settlement. A government land office is maintained at Lewistown. In Fergus County, outside the Judith Basin, is one of the greatest stock countries in the world, and good ranches can be purchased at a reasonable figure.

A MISPLACED SWITCH.

Which Explained Why the Minister Didn't Touch the Salad.

Hedekes of the fact that it was Sunday evening and that the minister might be, and in fact was expected to be, rather low, Deacon Black had invited the minister to supper. Mrs. Black, mindful of the fact that a small salad was all that could be placed on the board, was horrified at her husband's invitation, but with true hospitality attempted to make the best of the situation.

Leading from the parlor to the dining room is a passage, dark and so narrow that but one can pass in comfort at a time. With a woman's quick wit, Mrs. Black, who had come into the parlor after laying what she could find on the table, determined to use a variation of the "family holdback" that she often plays a part when the unexpected guest has come. Following her husband into the passage on the way to the table, she clutched an arm and, pulling down his head, whispered vehemently:

"Don't touch that salad, for goodness' sake!"

"All right," he answered in a similar whisper. Then the party proceeded to the table.

"I am very sorry, Mrs. Black," exclaimed the minister as the party seated themselves, "but I feel a little indisposed from the heat today, and I think I will have only a cup of tea."

"Why, that's too bad!" the wife remarked. "I did want you to have a good supper."

"You didn't say anything to me about feeling ill," put in Deacon Black, who despite the warning had helped himself to a large portion of the main dish. "If I had known that I wouldn't have pressed you to come."

The clergyman passed the situation off with some light remark and after a suitable period took his departure.

"Well, John," said Mrs. Black, "I'm glad for your sake that the doctor couldn't eat much, for there was so little, and I know how fond you are of salad."

"Yes," said her husband, "but there would have been enough to go around, I guess. I can't understand why the doctor accepted my invitation if he was ill."

"Anyway," she answered, "I'm glad I caught you in the passage and warned you about the salad."

"Passage? Salad? What are you talking about?" he exclaimed.

"John Black, didn't I speak to you in the passage?" his wife almost screamed.

"Why, no. The doctor let me go ahead of him after we started," cried Black. "What did you say?"

A traveler came along to the gate of a humble cabin in a town in Alabama just as an old negro handed a couple of jugs to his son, who was about ten years of age, and said, "Now, Julius, go down to the grocery and get a quart of treacle in one of dem jugs an' hurry back." When the boy had gone the traveler said to the father:

"You didn't tell him to get anything in the other jug. Is he going to leave it at the grocery?"

"No, sah; gwain to bring it right back home," he replied.

Little Robert, aged four, presented his mother with a large sized shock the other day. It was a case of sowing a mild little breeze and reaping a full grown whirlwind.

Robert is Mrs. B.'s first and has always had a large front seat in her affections. Even when Mrs. B. attended parties she remembered Robert and would slip a bit of candy into her handkerchief to carry home to him.

Not that Robert did not have as much candy of his own as was good for him—and more, too—but he took an awed delight in anything which came from a party. So his mother always produced some souvenir of her modest social disquisitions with which to satisfy Robert's

A few weeks ago Robert himself went to a party, his very first. A maid brought him home and left him, together with a large paper bag, in the eager arms of his well-come mother. The first rapture of description had scarcely begun when Mrs. B. became conscious of the bulky bag.

"Why, Robert, what's this?"

"It's for you. I brought it to you from the party."

With some misgiving Mrs. B. opened the bag. It contained a large orange, nuts, candy, grapes, cakes—in fact, a very respectable assortment of refreshments suited to the juvenile taste.

Robert had supposed it was quite the usual thing to take little consoiling items to the uninvited members of one's family, and he had taken a generous delight in securing a truly noble collection for his mother.

That lady faced the double problem of explaining the situation to Robert's hostess and of presenting to Robert a clear reason why what was sauce for the goose, so to speak, was a totally different thing for the gander. The explanation, which simmered down, of course, to question of size or quantity was far from being clear to Robert, who is low in his mind and thinks he does not care for society at all.—New York Sun.

What David Said.

A country clergyman kept a young servant lad. One Sunday morning before service he gave him his orders about the dinner and said:

"Go to neighbor David and ask him for me to let you have some trips on credit, and then prepare me a nice plateful."

The lad did as he was told, and the clergyman went to conduct the service. As he stood in the pulpit he called out in the middle of his sermon:

"And on this subject, brethren, what does David say?"

At that moment his little valet stepped into the church, and, in the belief that his master was addressing him, he replied:

"Please, sir, he says, 'No money, no trips!'"—London Answers.

Appropriate Sentiment.

Many years ago the energetic Professor Schwarz was conducting a musical society. They were studying Mendelssohn's "Elijah" and had reached the chorus, "Hear us, Babel, hear, mighty god."

The men's voices were booming out sonorously when the conductor cried out: "No, no! Do dreadful vowel! Don't say B-a-b-e-l. Soften a little. Give me more musical sound—B-a-l!"

Whereupon the chorus took up the strain again, "Hear us Bawl—hear us Bawl!" But they quickly realized the peculiar fitness of the sentiment and broke down in laughter, to the great amazement of the little German, who never saw the joke, but who returned reluctantly to the old pronunciation.

Neglected Nevada.

A daily paper is responsible for the statement that a single county in Nevada, covering 10,000 square miles, has nowhere within its borders even a mission hall in which the gospel is preached, and yet it has a population of several thousand people.

Egg Dish.

An odd combination of breakfast codfish balls and eggs is prepared in this way: Make the fish balls flat and fry them brown. Poach some eggs in rings, and when done slip one on each ball.

Egg balls are an attractive breakfast or luncheon dish. The eggs are boiled hard and the whites removed. Some minced ham is mixed with white sauce and seasoned with a little dry mustard and spread on rounds of toast, and one ball is put on each slice, and more white sauce, mixed with the chopped whites, is poured around.—Harper's Bazar.

Pay Only For What You Take.

An old Scotsman, not feeling well, called upon a doctor. The doctor gave him some verbal instructions as to how to regulate his diet, advising him, among other things, to drink no spirits for a time. The Scotsman rose to leave when the doctor said:

"I am in the way of charging for my advice. I will trouble you for half a crown."

"Oh, maybe," said the patient, "but I'm nae gann to tak yer advice!"—London Telegraph.

FAVORS AN AMENDMENT.

C. W. Gilman, of the Youngstown Chamber of Commerce, in an address before the Tax Commission of Ohio, said:

I think from the expression of our committee that we favor a constitutional amendment that will exempt the classification of property. It is said that corporations have no soul and no nervous system, and that they can stand almost any shock—the legislature puts upon them. Now these corporations are taxed, in addition to the regular tax, the Willis tax. Some of us believe that is double taxation; but we feel in Youngstown as long as the plan is followed of plundering the corporations that much recommendation should be made that will result in sending back a part of the plunder. We would like to have sent back to the county from which it came, a share of this tax.

COMPOUND INTEREST

The trouble with most advertisers is that they expect immediate returns of large proportions. One prominent advertiser illustrates the principle of advertising in this way:

"The money expended for advertising is the same as if placed at interest. The profits from the advertising are virtually the interest on the investment."

"The sum spent for advertising are properly chargeable to capital account because the resulting good will is something that has value, which, if the advertising has been properly done, can usually be sold for the face value of the investment."

"The rate of interest is determined by the skill with which the investment is made."

"Just as the quickest way to increase invested wealth is by compounding the interest, just so the quickest way to realize results from advertising is to compound the returns."—Advertising Experience.

GEORGE DODDS & SON,
113, 115, 117, 119 W. Main St., Xenia, O.

W. H. Blair of Loveland, publisher of the Tri County Press, has been given a verdict of $2,000 in the Hamilton County Circuit Court on error. He recently sued the Chatfield & Woods Co. of Cincinnati for $10,000 damages for injuries received while purchasing goods in their warehouse. He stepped into a vacant stairway that was under repair. Owing to darkness he was not able to see the dangerous place.

Remarkable Metaphor.
The English women suffragists have contributed besides other things to the gayety of nations a remarkable mixed metaphor. One of these strenuous ladies, speaking of the lack of interest of women in their rights, said: "As yet it is but a flea bite on the ocean, but let us arise in all our strength and nip it in the bud. We have seen too much not to know where the hot pinches."

It seems that the work of raising $5,000 for the Xenia and Wilmington traction line has proved to be quite a task, only $4,000 being raised so far. People are skeptical of such propositions and do not have much confidence in a company that only needs $5,000 more.

RINGLING BROS. AT SPRINGFIELD.

World's greatest Show is to exhibit there on Saturday May 9. The people of Cedarville will have an opportunity on Thursday May 8th of visiting Ringling Bros. World's Greatest Shows the point of exhibition being Springfield.

This season marks the twenty fifth anniversary of this great circus, and the Ringling Brothers are celebrating the year by presenting the greatest European program ever offered—a parade that surpasses all those of the past, a new and complete menagerie, another brilliant spectacle, and the most astonishing and sensational "thriller" in all history.

The "thriller" is nothing less than a double somersault in mid-air made by a heavy automobile with Mile. La Belle Roche, a young French woman, at the wheel. The car dashes down a steep incline from the dome of the tent. An abrupt up-curved terminal hurls the car high above the heads of the audience, where it accomplishes two complete revolutions and then lands with a crash on a narrow speedway, exhausting its terrific momentum on the hippodrome track.

This is an act that defies English. It cannot be described, and when once seen, the picture of it will be carried through life. It is the first instance where a single automobile has turned two summersaults in space.

The world-wide character of this year's remarkable company can be seen at a glance. From France comes the great St. Leon family of acrobats; the Patty Brothers, who walk, skip the rope and dance on their heads; Burgoes and Clara, the gymnasts; the wonderful Martell troupe of equestrians; the aerial Mollies, and Miss La Belle Roche, who does the dangerous double somersault.

Wormwood and his trained bears; the Duttons and the Clark Brothers riders; the great aerial Clarkons and the famous Jordan family are from England; Kerslake and his company of pigs that skip the rope and shoot the chute are from New Zealand; and the eight Carnellos, acrobats; Alvarez, the acrobat; De Marlo, the contortionist, and a company of burlesque bull fighters are from Spain.

A RESOLUTION.

Whereas, through the influence of the Board of Trade, the citizens of the village have petitioned council to exchange the present system of lighting the town for an electric system, and

Whereas, council at a meeting March 16th, 1908, did agree by resolution to make the change as soon as financial and other matters could be arranged, and

Whereas, a certificate from the clerk shows that there is not sufficient money on hand to justify council in contracting for electric lights,

Therefore Resolved that the following proposition be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the village as provided for in sections 3401, 3551 and section 34 of the municipal code of the Revised Statutes of Ohio, viz:—Shall there be a special levy of three mills in excess of the one per cent allowed by law; at a special election to be held on May 16th, 1908 from 9:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m.?

J. G. MCCORMACK,
Clerk of the Village of Cedarville.
J. H. WOLKMAN, Mayor.

Playing School.

"How many seed compartments are there in an apple?" he queried. No one knew.

"And yet," said the school inspector, "all of you eat many apples in the course of a year and see the fruit every day probably. You must learn to notice the little things in nature."

The talk of the inspector impressed the children, and they earnestly discussed the matter at recess time. The teacher the next day overheard this conversation. A little girl, getting some of her companions around her, gravely said: "Now, children, just suppose that I'm Mr. Inspector. You've got to know more about common things. If you don't, you'll all grow up to be fools. Now tell me," she said, looking sternly at a playmate, "how many feathers has a hen?"

A CURIOUS LAKE.

It Makes Four Distinct Changes in Color Every Year.

In Monterey county, Cal., at Seaside, there is a lake which changes its color four times each year. Apparently there is no outlet for the lake, although it is never stagnant. It is full of waterfowl and fish, and when its color is normal it is sweet to the taste.

The color changes are very pronounced and are in four distinct shades—yellow, green, red and dark gray that has the appearance of black at times. After each change the water regains its normal clear appearance. The color is in the water and is not the result of reflection from the sky. This has been proved beyond doubt by the fact that the color remains the same for days at a time, regardless of the condition of the clouds.

The four colors mentioned are the ones always seen, and they always occur in the order named, the disturbance, if such it may be called, covering a period of from six weeks to two months in July and August of each year. Old residents of Seaside assert that the phenomenon is a regular annual event and that it is always followed by the death of a large number of fish in the lake.

No explanation of the peculiar condition has ever been attempted by scientists, although several scientific men of note have studied the lake very carefully. The prevailing opinion among the inhabitants of the section surrounding the lake is that the lake is of volcanic origin and that the changes are due to subterranean disturbances, which produce chemical changes in the water of the lake.

This idea is supposed to have grown out of the belief that the lake is bottomless. Years ago, when the Southern Pacific railroad was being built across one end of the lake, the roadbed sank almost as fast as it was laid, and thousands of tons of gravel and stone were dumped into the lake before a stable foundation could be obtained. This led to the belief that the lake is bottomless. The lake is not more than three-quarters of a mile long by less than half a mile wide.—Los Angeles Times.

False Logic.

Attorney General Moody, discussing a legal point, said: "That is striking but false logic. It reminds me of a conversation I once heard at the seashore. A man in a striped bathing suit was running on the beach, legs over the hot white beach toward the cool water when a friend, calling him by the arm, said: 'What! Are you going in to bathe just after a heavy lunch?' Why, you will be drowned.' 'Oh, no; not at all,' replied the other. 'I ate nothing but fish.'"

GET RICH QUICK.

Schemes of this class have again come to grief along with the gullible investors, causing serious loss to innocent business concerns, as is always the case of panics in Wall St.

While this last lesson is yet fresh in mind, it is an opportune moment to consider causes and means to avoid like trouble in the future.
